Name: _____

Commonly Confused Words: Then vs. Than

Then

Than

Then and than sound a little alike, but their meanings are different.

Then can be an adverb meaning in that case, in addition or in the next moment. It can also be a noun meaning a moment or specific time.

Example 1: If Mike is late, then he should apologize.
Example 2: I did the dishes, then I went to bed.
Example 3: She was about to cross the road, then she saw a car.
Example 4: We will wait until then to call you.

Than is often used as a conjunction. It sometimes comes after an adjective for a comparison. It can also connect one clause to another.

Example 1: Carla is shorter than Christy.
Example 2: He talks more slowly than Evan does.

Choose then or than to complete each sentence.

1. That picture is prettier _____ the other.

2. I like salad more _____ soup.

3. The game was tied, _____ our team scored.

4. If Marco doesn't want to go, _____ he should stay home.

5. This is more important _____ you think.

6. It was _____ that Kirk realized his mistake.

7. For your chores, you should wash the dog, _____ rake the leaves.

8. My sister makes better grades _____ my brother.

9. If Carrie doesn't find the library book, _____ she must pay a fine.

10. Today was hotter _____ we thought it would be.

Name: _____Key_____

Commonly Confused Words: Then vs. Than

Then

Than

Then and than sound a little alike, but their meanings are different.

Then can be an adverb meaning in that case, in addition or in the next moment. It can also be a noun meaning a moment or specific time.

  Example 1: If Mike is late, then he should apologize.
  Example 2: I did the dishes, then I went to bed.
  Example 3: She was about to cross the road, then she saw a car.
  Example 4: We will wait until then to call you.

Than is often used as a conjunction. It sometimes comes after an adjective for a comparison. It can also connect one clause to another.

  Example 1: Carla is shorter than Christy.
  Example 2: He talks more slowly than Evan does.

Choose then or than to complete each sentence.

1. That picture is prettier _____than_____ the other.

2. I like salad more _____than_____ soup.

3. The game was tied, _____then_____ our team scored.

4. If Marco doesn't want to go, _____then_____ he should stay home.

5. This is more important _____than_____ you think.

6. It was _____then_____ that Kirk realized his mistake.

7. For your chores, you should wash the dog, _____then_____ rake the leaves.

8. My sister makes better grades _____than_____ my brother.

9. If Carrie doesn't find the library book, _____then_____ she must pay a fine.

10. Today was hotter _____than_____ we thought it would be.